CANCELLATION OF INAUGURAL PLANS IS DECIDED UPON AS HARDING ASKED

Committee Tentatively Agrees to Halt Their Preparations for Notable Ceremony

CITIZENS ARE PLANNING
AN UNOFFICIAL BALL

President and Mrs. Harding Will Be Extended Invitation to Attend

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—President-elect Harding's desire that there be no inaugural celebration probably will be fulfilled. The inaugural committee met today and tentatively decided to cancel plans which have been made.

Citizens of Washington are now making plans for an unofficial celebration which probably will embrace a ball to which the President-elect and Mrs. Harding will be invited.

Telegram to McLean
Mr. Harding's telegram to Mr. Mc-Lean follows:

"I beg respectfully to suggest to your committee the complete abandonment of all plans for an inaugural celebration.

"Heretofore I have been very reluctant to express my personal views to your committee, because I knew of the cherished regard in our national capital for this quadrennial event, and the generosity of the citizens of the district in making provision for it. You were good enough to accept the chairmanship at my request and you and your associates have won my lasting gratitude for the time and labor you have given on preparation.

"However, if it is becoming to express my preferences, I wish you and your committee to know that the impression of extravagant expenditure and excessive cost would make me a very unhappy participant. I know full well that the government outlay is relatively small and that the larger expenditure comes from the generous contributions of district citizenship, but it is timely and wholesome to practice the utter denial of public expenditure where there is no real necessity and it will be a wholesome example of economy and thrift if we save the many, many thousands which the inaugural celebration will call from the private purse of those attending.

"I have sent a message of like purport to the congressional committee and express the wish that no preparations or outlay of any kind be made.
It will be most pleasing to me to be simply sworn in, speak, briefly my pledge of faith to the country and turn at once to the work which will be calling.

"Again expressing my gratitude to you and your associates and to the generous people of Washington, I am, "Very respectfully,
"WARREN G. HARDING."

HARDING CONFIDENT

(International News Service)
MARION, O., Jan. 11.—Confidence was expressed at Harding headquarters today that the request of the President-elect that all plans for an inaugural celebration be abandoned would be complied with immediately.

The message, sent by Senator Harding to Senator Knox and Edward B.
McLean, chairman of the congressional inaugural committee and the national inaugural committee, left no doubt as to the decided stand taken by the next president against any extra preparation for expenditure for this event. It is known that Senator Harding has felt considerable concern as the plans for the inaugural celebration have developed and that his own preference, many times expressed, has always been for an exceedingly simple ceremony. In addition, he has felt keenly, it is asserted, that any undue expenditure, either by the federal government, the state, or by individuals, would ill conform with the plans for economy and elimination of waste upon which he has laid so much stress.

HIS INTERNAL ORGANS ARE ON (WRONG SIDE

(International News Service)
RUTLAND, Vt., Jan. 11.—Though all his internal organs are "on the wrong side" and he has tuberculosis, William Bowen, of West Charleston, Vt., a patient at the Vermont Sanitarium in Pittsford, is going to get well, say the doctors, to whom the man is an anatomical curiosity.

Another Visitor Inspects Local Oil Possibilities

A. O. Self, president of the Standard Lessee Syndicate of Dallas, Texas, is visiting his friend, H. R. Speake, and looking over the local field.

According to Mr. Self, at the present time it is very difficult to interest capital in unproven fields, there being so many proved fields in Texas to attract capital. However, he cites an instance of a county not far from Dallas, the people of which were confident that oil was to be found there but were unable to get anyone to drill for it. Becoming tired of trying to interest outside capital, the people of this county chipped in and sunk a well which proved a gusher and today there are several fine wells there bringing in an income of $15,000,000 per month, one town in the country having jumped from 1500 to 25,000 population in 18 months.

PATTERSON WILL BE INAUGURATED ON NEXT MONDAY

A. G. Patterson, president-elect of the Alabama Public Service Commission, will not be inaugurated until next Tuesday. He announced today that through a misinterpretation of the law, the impression had become prevalent throughout the state that his inauguration would be staged today.
"Because of a misinterpretation by attorneys of the public service measure, the impression had become general that I was to assume office today," Mr. Patterson stated. "Later I was advised by my attorneys that the date of my inauguration was next week instead of this week."

BELLE MINA WOMAN IS FIRST ELECTOR

MRS. AUGUSTA BIBB DUNCAN BECOMES MEMBER OF ALA-BAMA COLLEGE

Friends of Mrs. Augusta Bibb Duncan, of Belle Mina, are extending their congratulations on her election as a member of the Alabama electoral college. Mrs. Duncan is the first woman to be a member of the college in Alabama and is perhaps the first Southern woman to ever cast a vote for a national ticket. She was elected to succeed John W. McQueen of Birmingham.

The college met yesterday in Montgomery and the entire vote was cast for Cox and Roosevelt, in accordance with the election pledge. Walter F.
Miller, of Tusculum, was elected president of the college. W. T. Edmundson of Montgomery was elected messenger to convey Alabama's vote to Washington.

"SHOWDOWN" ON MUSCLE SHOALS IS DUE IN THE SENATE

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—After two weeks of intermittent debate, the Senate reached the final phase today of its consideration of the disputed Muscle Shoals nitrate plant bill. A showdown between the opponents and proponents of continuance of the plant under a federal corporation, directed by the War Department, is anticipated before the end of the day. The first test of strength will probably come on the pending motion of Senator Lenroot, Republican, of Wisconsin, leader of the opposition, to recommit the bill to the agricultural committee from which it was reported favorably.

If the supporters of the bill prevent its recommitment, its opponents concede it will probably be passed, although they predict its defeat when it reaches the House.

Senator Wadsworth of New York, chairman of the Senate military affairs committee, would amend the bill so as to place the future development of the Muscle Shoals project in charge of the treasury instead of the War Department. Several other proposed amendments are pending. Senator Gronna, Republican, North Dakota, chairman of the agricultural committee, has joined forces with Democratic senators from the South in the fight to put the bill through.

DEVELOPMENT OF WATER POWER ON BIG SCALE ABROAD

"I wish some of our American congressmen, who are fighting the development of Muscle Shoals so bitterly, could get a glimpse of what Europe is doing to develop water power," declared Mrs. W. B. Edmundson, prominent local woman, on her return today from a business trip abroad.

"Particularly in Italy is the water power development going forward on a big scale. They are not so fortunate to have a Muscle Shoals there, but they are developing the latent energy of all small streams. The railroads are being electrified all over the nation. It is illuminating for an Alabamian to visit there and see their efforts to harness the horsepower of their little streams and then think of what an opportunity there is for Americans to develop the great Tennessee. The streams they spend money and energy upon would be considered too small for us to bother with."

"I tell you the whole of Europe is becoming aroused over the possibilities of water power development, and unless we cease our bickering and get down to real business, Europe will outstrip us in water power development, notwithstanding our great natural resources."

"There is a plan now being advocated in some quarters to harness the power furnished by the tide."

of the special period which closed Saturday night, the judges will tabulate the business turned in by the contestants during the ten-day period and award the Special Gold Prize along with the main prizes at the end of the contest.
The extra gold prize and double the offer for this week is sepa-attractive prizes to know that there will be an opportunity to secure DOU-BLE CREDITS upon their subscrip-subscriptions will be credited with twice their regular value, according to the schedule. Credits will be necessary to decide the winners of the mag-

LORD MAYOR TO FIGHT

Departments Differ in Opinion on Construction of the Davis Order

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Acting Secretary of State Davis this afternoon requested Secretary of Labor Wilson to deport, at once, Daniel O'Callaghan, lord mayor of Cork, who entered the United States as a stowaway. Secretary Davis notified Secretary Wilson that the State Department has decided that it cannot waive the regulations requiring a passport and requested that O'Callaghan, who is now on parole, be taken into custody at once and his deportation exe-

"The O'Callaghan case is in a ne-ment announced this afternoon. "The request of the State Department is merely a request and does not represent a final ruling." The request for deportation of O'Callaghan is tanta-

State Department.

of deportation in O'Callaghan's case and to take all steps necessary to "protect the lord mayor's legal right."

AMERICAN BALLOONISTS WILL REACH CIVILIZATION IN 2 HOURS

NITRATE PLANT IS GREATEST HELP TO NATION'S FARMERS

[Editor's Note:—This is the sixth installment of Congressman Almon's argument in favor of continuation of the work at Muscle Shoals. Figures are contained in the argument which should be memorized by every resident of the valley.]

Agriculture is the foundation of all of our wealth and prosperity, and now, at a time when the farmers of the nation are crying out to be relieved from the Chilean nitrate monopoly, what are we going to do? The price of Chilean nitrate went up during the war to $100 per ton. It is all right for some of these fertilizer companies to want to continue to sell to the farmers the stuff they have been selling to them—which has about 280 pounds of plant food in it to the 2000 pounds of fertilizer, costing the farmer enormous amounts in freight rates and causing him great trouble to haul it over bad roads. The hearings in the case show that at this plant we can produce real fertilizer. Ammonia nitrate contains 35 per cent of nitrogen, and ammonia sulphate 20 per cent.
Cyanamid contains more nitrogen than Chilean nitrate. It is from this that the farmers of this country expect to be relieved by securing at about half what it has cost them heretofore. I believe the more you study this question the more you will be convinced that it is in the interest of this entire country; I do not care whether the member is from the city or not.

A city congressman well knows that farmers and agriculture make the cities. Let the soil go to waste and not be replenished, let agriculture go down and the streets of the city will grow up in grass and weeds. Every man, woman and child, I do not care where he lives, is interested in the success of agriculture. It seems to me that the farmers have been hit harder than any other class of people in the last 60 or 90 days, when the bottom has dropped out of the price of farm products. We are appealing to you now to do something to help the farmer hereafter to produce something, and it is nothing more than should be expected.
We have a chance now to do something in the way of fertilizer. There is no competition. There is no private capital directly interested in this country in the manufacture of nitrogen, except as a by-product. Private capital will not build nitrate plants. The farmers of this country have waited all of these years, hoping capital would build nitrate plants for the manufacture of nitrogen, but they have not done it, and all that we get today is from Chile—except what we get from the by-product of coke ovens and a little organic nitrogen, and that has become so valuable as a food product that practically none of it is used as fertilizer. It is more valuable as food.

These great resources of the country—the water powers—cannot better be utilized than, through governmental activity, be harnessed for the service of all the people in the production of the necessary elements required for food production, and Theodore Rosevelt must have visualized the problem that this House is called upon to solve today when he wrote in the Outlook of September 7, 1912, as follows:

The government must co-operate with the farmer to make the farm more productive. There must be no skinning of the soil. The farm should be left to the farmer's son in better and not worse condition because of its cultivation. Moreover, every invention and improvement, every discovery and economy, should be at the service of the farmer in the work of production.

Correspondent Meets Trio and Finds All Are Well—First Interview is Granted to the International News Ser- vice—Lieut. Kloor in Lead

By AGAPIT CLERMONT,
Special Correspondent of the International News Service (Copyright by the I. N. S. 1921)

MATTICE, Ontario, Jan. 11.—The American balloonists will be here within a few hours. I met them Sunday afternoon and all are well. They should arrive here about 2 o'clock this afternoon. Lieutenant L. A. Kloor was in the lead of the party.

Camping with him was Lieutenant Hinton, Lieutenant Farrell coming next. All were on snow shoes and were delighted to see a white man.
They gave me the first interview.
Only a person who has snow-shoed for days can appreciate the hardships these men have suffered. Lieutenant Kloor, spokesman for the party, narrated their adventures. After leaving Rockaway Point on the morning of December 13, they were caught in a severe storm.

"It was impracticable to land in this wind," Kloor said. "We decided to fly all night. Tuesday morning we were up 6000 feet. We had to throw out nearly everything in the basket to keep afloat. About one o'clock Tuesday afternoon we thought we saw a house and heard the barking of a dog.
We then brought down the balloon.
We had nothing to eat but the carrier pigeons and the only water we could find was in holes where the moose had pawed up the snow.

"We built fires occasionally. I had a box of matches in my pocket, which was fortunate. We wandered in the forests until Friday, December 17. On that day we found dog-sled tracks and then felt that we would soon be safe.
About one hour later we sighted an Indian. The Indian took us to his cabin and his wife gave us food. He went to the Hudson Bay Company's post to notify them. The manager, Mr. Rackham, took us in charge and outfitted us for the trip to Mattice."

LABOR SPEAKER WILL DELIVER AN ADDRESS JAN. 24

Announcement was made by the Federated Shop Crafts at last night's meeting of the local union of machinists that Mr. Nicholson, one of the higher officials of a prominent labor brotherhood, would visit the Twin Cities on January 24 and deliver an address to the union workers of this section. In connection with this announcement Fred M. Sittason said he could vouch for the fact that Mr. Nicholson was an able and attractive speaker, having heard him in Rochester, N. Y., during last summer.

The newly-elected officers for the machinists for the ensuing year were installed as follows: President, H. A.
Shates; vice-president, C. E. Swanson; secretary, C. H. Haas; financial secretary, T. B. Huddleston; chaplain, L.
E. Toon; conductor, John Longier; sentinel, William Sandusky; shop committee, Robert Beachman, chairman, A. B. Duff, Grady George, W. M.
Thomas; delegates to the Central Labor Union, J. E. Blair, W. M. Thomas, H. A. Shates, F. T. Lewis and Geo. O.
Feyerebend.

GORDON WOODS IS PROMOTED AGAIN

NOW IN HIGHEST DEPARTMENT OF WESTERN TELEPHONE COMPANY

Gordon Woods, son of Daniel Woods both of whom are well known in the Twin Cities, has been promoted to the commercial engineering department of the telephone company by which he is employed in Los Angeles, friends here have been advised. Mr. Woods has been promoted twice within the past few years.

News of his rapid advancement will be received with much pleasure by Twin Citizens.

SECRETARY CASTS ASIDE PROPOSAL FOR NAVAL HOLIDAY

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Casting aside the proposal for a naval holiday between the United States, England and Japan, as a make-shift undertaking of no real value, Secretary of the Navy Daniels today appeared before the House committee on naval affairs and in a frank discussion of the disarmament question declared "that the United States must either join at once in a world-wide agreement to reduce armament or else embark on a great new building program which will make the American navy equal, if not the greatest in the world."

No half way measures will suffice, he said. Equality with the greatest, or the protection of an international agreement alone, are worthy of serious consideration, he declared. And, if President-elect Harding asks his advice on the question, Secretary Daniels said he will inform him that if the United States is not immediately to become a member of the League of Nations, this government should at once initiate steps toward a world disarmament plan.

The President will have that authority. Under the naval acts of 1916, the President of the United States is authorized by Congress to invite the nations of the world to sit around a table and talk of reduction in armament.

CABINET APPOINTEE HAS RELATIVE HERE

NEW SECRETARY OF AGRICUL-TURE COUSIN OF MRS. W.
B. EDMUNDSON

Announcement from Washington of the probable appointment of Henry Cantwell Wallace, of Des Moines, as secretary of agriculture in the cabinet of President-elect Warren G. Harding will be received with pleasure by the older residents of the Twin Cities, who remember Mr. Wallace's uncle, Dr. J.
Y. Cantwell, who was a former resident here. Mr. Wallace also is a coun-sin of Mrs. W. B. Edmundson.

Dr. Cantwell was owner of the old state bank and other property in De-caturn and his nephew, who has visited here, is known by many of the older residents. The new cabinet member's mother was Miss Nannie Cantwell, while Mrs. Edmundson's mother was Miss Rachael Cantwell. They were first cousins.

The appointment of Mr. Wallace is accepted by official Washington as a fact, although no formal announcement has been made by Senator Harding on his cabinet make-up.

An interesting feature of his appointment is the fact that he not only comes from Des Moines but that he is publisher of a farm journal whose publication offices are just across the street from those of the periodical of the present Secretary Meredith, who also comes from the Iowa city.

HEAVY CASUALTIES

(International News Service)
LONDON, Jan. 11.—Heavy casualties have resulted from the widespread rioting in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh in India and especially in the region of Raebareilly, said an Allahabad dispatch to the Evening Standard today. Violent fighting resulted when the landlords attempted to suppress the Soviet which had been establishing in the villages. Strong forces of armed police are now on the scene.

HONOR TO THE OLDER FIGHTERS IN THE GREAT WAR

With the exception of the soldiers sent into the great war by the United States, the men who prevented the fall of civilization before the mad on-rush of the Central powers, were the older men of the Allied countries. This came to be true because very early in the war the two great powers, France and England were drained of their young fighters.

With the beginning of the year 1916 both these nations had to call their middle-aged men to the colors. It will be recalled by close readers of the daily history of the war as given in the newspapers, that in the third year of the war the dress parade, the glamor and the enthusiasm of youth gave place to grim determination and desperate fighting on the part of men who had families to defend. The following is a word picture that appeared of the French "poulu": "There was the unshaven, middle aged poulu, bending under the lead of his pack and sauce pan and extra pair of shoes." And it will be recalled, that General Joffre, who won the first Marne, went unshaven because of his close application to business and his full determination to put every ounce of his energy against the foe.

The middle aged fighters realized more plainly than could mere youth that "there is something more precious than life; that there is something more necessary than life." It was these older men who with grim determination said with their lives at Verdun—"they shall not pass"—and who fought with Sir Douglass Haig, with their backs to the wall, defending the Channel ports and holding the line for civilization, until reinforcements could come from the new world.

It would be false teaching, to seek to take one iota of glory from the youth in the great war; but it would be equally false to teach the rising generation, that older soldiers who were too old to march glibly, or even to stand erect, did not first make it plain to the Central powers that they were in for a long war, and not just a few battles and then the Kaiser eating Christmas dinners in Paris and London.

Because we are naturally inclined to think of the warrior as a resplendent young man, unless we stop to think, the older men of the great war will not get his just meed of praise. Not that the "poulu," and the family men would care for words of appreciation. They were not out after glory. They got what they went after—safety for their homes and loved ones, and the right to live their own lives unmolested by military authorities. The painters and the poets are sure to pass them by, and choose young warriors to typify the unconquered spirit of freedom as expressed by the fighters in the great war; but those who make a study of rendering praise for valor, regardless of age or appearance will never forget the older men who went into the lines of death after the younger men had been used as cannon fodder in the earlier years of the war. A recent war writer thus waxed eloquent as he describes the "old boys." "They may have been ugly, ungainly, ridiculous, those old boys and the gray 'poulu.' And yet, as they shamble arm in arm into Valhalla, the 'golden-curl'd dead of Thermopylae,' and Peleus' mighty son, Roland and Lancelot of the glittering graves, and the Royal King Arthur, must rise up to do honor to these princeliest heroes of them all."

MAY NOT INVESTIGATE
DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

Representative Volstead, chairman of the House Judiciary committee, said yesterday that it was unlikely that Attorney General Palmer and Secretary Baker would be asked by the committee to explain what has been done by their departments in apprehending slackers who violated the selective service act.

In his letter to the committee Mr. Palmer said the department of justice "has made every effort to procure indictments or information against all persons guilty of violation of the selective service act," and "that it is not believed that any considerable number of persons guilty of a willful violation of the act have escaped the notice of this department and its investigators."

Secretary Baker has been charged with tempering justice with a little too much mercy in dealing with draft dodgers after they had been convicted by the department of justice showed commendable vigilance in arresting and obtaining evidence against slackers. The department's representatives not only caught many draft dodgers, but they were zealous in rounding up bolsheviks, alien enemies, anarchists and agitators of all kinds. The record made by the department during the war was, as a whole, a credit to the government.

Mr. Volstead does not believe men should be "branded" as slackers in a published list until they have been tried and convicted. That will appeal to the average American's sense of fair play. While there may not be much sympathy for a draft dodger, even the worst criminal is presumed innocent in a court of law until his guilt is proved. Mistakes may have been committed or there may have been extenuating circumstances in the cases of many men who technically violated the selective service act. It would be a great injustice to make their names infamous before it has been proved that they were willful violators.—Birmingham Age-Herald.

FRENCH MANNERS CHANGED

Charles Henry Meltzer in the Forum.

You will see changes, many changes, both in the manners and the ideals of the Parisians. The girls of Paris, even those we call well-bred, have been affected by the laxities of the war. In earlier days it was not thought respectable for girls to walk out unchaperoned. Now they run wild, alone or with their friends. They have adapted what their mothers call les mœurs Americaines. But they are not accustomed to our free, frank ways. They go too far, and are apt to riot where our girls would laugh and play.

The men and women jostle one another in the streets and in "Metro" (subway) trains. For the moment they have thrown away the traditions of their race. It may take them years to rid themselves of their new roughness in social intercourse. But have no fear. Some day they will get rid of them.

HOISTING THE FLAG OF SECTIONALISM

Representative Martin B. Madden, Republican, who represents the First District of Illinois in the House of Representatives, has made a remarkable discovery.

Checking up the membership of the Sixty-seventh Congress Mr. Madden finds that the section east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio river will have a solid Republican voting strength of 228—ten more than a majority of the House.

Mr. Madden has made a deep study of the geographical taxation of the nation and reports also that this section of the country pays 84% per cent of all the federal taxes.

Says Mr. Madden:

This will give the Republicans from the tax-paying belt a clean majority hereafter over all other combinations, and I believe we will soon begin to see a change in sectional or class legislation.

Under Democratic administrations the South has been in the saddle, and the South paid only 6 per cent of all taxes.

The Republicans of the "taxpaying belt," as Mr. Madden calls it, will be in the saddle after March 4 next, but Mr. Madden seems to have overlooked the little matter of a few score electoral votes from west of the Mississippi and south of the Ohio which added materially to the restoration of Republican rule at Washington.

The South long has been the "goat" of Republican demagogues who have shouted the charge of sectionalism against it unceasingly. For the past eight years we have heard little else.

Away back in "Old Hickory's" time there was an alliance of South and West against the effete East which cut considerable of a caper in national elections. Representative Madden is in a fair way to revive the alliance by his declaration of favoring the natives of the northeast at the expense of the other three-quarters of the nation.—Nashville Tennessean.

The most interesting short story in the world—The Telegram.

If all men do as well this year as the weather man has so far, there is nothing to fear.

All residents of Marion, Ohio, who have hopes of getting pie counter reservations have subscribed to Senator Harding's paper "The Marion Star." It would not be a bad idea for all office seekers to follow suit.

The country may not be bone dry, by a jug full, but it is uncomfortably so for a lot of bone heads.

D'Annunzio gave orders a few days before he openly failed at Fiume, that whomsoever spoke against D'Annunzio, should be shot. No wonder the poet-warrior had to leave. Those who cannot stand abuse are on their last legs.

Speaking about whiskey, is there any as good now as Dan Tucker drank, and of which he said: "If I had a cow I'd give such milk; I'd dress her in the finest silk; I'd feed her on the choicest hay and milk her forty times a day!"

Man is Wounded
During Exchange

A man was wounded in the left shoulder yesterday during an exchange of shots between revenue men and two men in Meats Hollow, about 10 miles east of Falkville, Revenue Agent Howell reported on his return today from a raiding expedition into the east end of the county, in company with Revenue Agent Hucksaba of Hartselle and Deputy Sheriff Wright of Hartselle. The belief was expressed that the wounded man did not do the shooting, but that a man accompanying him fired upon the revenue officers, who returned it.

Two outfits were taken by the raiding party and approximately 550 gallons of beer were poured out.

"We had just completed raiding one still when we saw two men. We called upon them to halt. This was followed by a shot whizzing past our heads. During the exchange a man was wounded, but was able to go to his home," declared Mr. Howell. "The man accompanying him got away."

Hartselle News

At a recent meeting of the local company of U. S. cavalry Second Lieutenant J. B. Stone was elected to the position of First Lieutenant, recently held by Fred O. Sherrill, who resigned, and Robert R. Kent was elected to position of Second Lieutenant, these elections being made by a popular vote of the company. The company is growing fast, new members being steadily recruited. A splendid armory has been arranged for on South Highlands, and the members are anxiously awaiting their horses and equipment, which will arrive at an early date.

With the exception of a few minor details, the commodious annex to the Morgan County High School is complete and is now being used. The addition of this annex gives Hartselle one of the finest high school buildings in the state and when all modern conveniences are installed it will take care of the needs of this ever-growing school for some time.

A RESOLUTION

The following resolution was adopted by Oakworth Lodge No. 812, B. R. C. of A.:

Albany, Ala., Jan. 6, 1921.
WHEREAS, It has come to the knowledge of the Oakworth Lodge No. 812, Brotherhood of Railway Carmen of America, with a membership of over 700, that an attempt will be made early in this year to put a provision into the constitution, giving certain officials authority to pass upon the educational qualifications and moral character of all who wish to exercise the God-given right to vote; and

WHEREAS, We believe we see in such a move an effort of a few people to rule this state; and

WHEREAS, Any such movement is subversive to the rights and privileges of a free people; therefore be it

RESOLVED, That we are bitterly opposed to the amendment in question and that we call on all true Alabamians to speak against it and vote against it at the polls on February 8, 1921. We especially call on all who belong to the great labor movement to use their influence and vote against the adoption of the amendment. Be it further

COTTON MARKET'S OPENING IS EASIER

LISTS DROP FOLLOWING RECEIPT OF POOR CABLES FROM LIVERPOOL

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—The cotton market was easier at the opening today, owing to poor cables, selling to the South and profit taking. Some of the private messages from Liverpool were unfavorable, but in sympathy with this, Liverpool concerns were among the best buyers, taking July mostly. About 12 notices were issued, causing relative weakness in January.

First prices showed net losses of 23 to 55 points. January suffered the greatest loss. At the end of the first 20 minutes prices were 25 to 37 points net lower.

Over-confidence loses many a battle. Relaxation at this stage of the campaign is suicidal to success. Determination to win, in connection with the relentless activity in vote-getting will make a person a winner. "HITCHY KOO" COMING TO PRINCESS WEDNESDAY

Play patrons will welcome the long and eagerly awaited announcement that Raymond Hitchcock will present his surpassing musical comedy revue "Hitchy-Koo" direct from its triumphant run of one solid year in New York at the Princess theatre Wednesday night.

Not since the days of the "Merry Widow" or "Floradoro" has any musical offering even approached the record breaking popularity of the second edition of "Hitchy-Koo". Never in all the history of musical attractions on the New York stage has any firm of theatrical entertainment ever attained the instantaneous and lasting popularity or equalled the enormous receipts of this tunelessly merry and timeless revue. Even the hitherto unequalled patronage accorded the Ziegfeld Follies was far surpassed in the record of capacity business and duration of the engagement.

The entire New York production of fourteen scenes and eighteen song hits will be seen here precisely as presented in Manhattan for over fifty consecutive weeks with such well-known players as Stan Stanley, Jack Riano, Fifer Trio, Frank Cornell, John Haw, Artie Leeming, Jaunita Cunningham, Wood Sisters, Ruthe Downe, Ollie Northlans, Bagley Sisters, Frank Miller, Baby Josephine, Bert Leighton, Helen Stanley, Bonita DeAguiar, Ruth Weston, the Sixteen Sweet Sixteens, and Hitchy's Own Syncopated orchestra.

"King's Tobacco Pipe."
This is a popular nickname for a peculiarly shaped kiln or furnace in the northeast corner of the tobacco warehouse belonging to the London docks. Here contraband goods, such as tobacco, cigars and tea, which had been smuggled in, were burned. Seized and unclaimed goods are now sold at periodical sales, or distributed among public institutions, but damaged and worthless goods are still burned.

late air, brushing aside every obstacle that may arise that have the best chances of winning the automobiles. It seems to be unanimous, this perseverance that is characteristic of contestants, and this last week will undoubtedly witness the most spirited battle that has ever taken place in this section.

All of The Daily's territory is being raked as thoroughly as with a fine-tooth comb. Fresh vitality is what it behooves every contestant to henceforth put into his or her work. The last days of this campaign during which the final vote schedule is operative will be the deciding factor in establishing the winners. The race is too close to bank on any possibilities, and there are too many people interested in each contestant to insure any one else an easy victory.

Mother Falls Unconscious

"My mother, who is 69 years old, has been troubled with her liver for 35 years. Doctors said she had gall stones. Several times she fell unconscious because of these attacks. Eight months ago I noticed an advertisement of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy in the Toledo Blade and purchased a bottle, which did her a great amount of good. She continued the treatment and has felt entirely well since." NEWSPAPER TELLS HOW BOY WAS SAVED FROM LUNG TROUBLE

Read what the Altoona Times-Tribune says about the case of Paul McCartney. Reporter interviewed his parents and saw the boy.

The story shown below is a news article, not advertising.

Altoona (Pa.) Times-Tribune, March 26, 1920

HEALTH COMES TO LAD THROUGH ADVERTISING

Despairing Parents, As the Last Resort, Choose Remedy Heard of Through This Newspaper—Boy is Now Well and Robust

It would hardly occur to you that a miracle could be worked through advertising—one that saved to dying parents the life of their only son. Strange as it may seem, that is just exactly what has been accomplished in a specific instance right here in Altoona. We all have heard volumes about the value of advertising, but that the great results achieved by it should save life, almost passes our belief. However here are the facts in the case.

Paul McCartney, son of Mr. and Mrs. William McCartney, residing at 2222 Walnut avenue, this city, and who on October 10 last, celebrated the 14th anniversary of his birthday, took sick July, 1918, his illness rapidly assuming such a critical aspect that his life was despaired of. The parents in their frantic efforts to save his life, called in different medical practitioners and at different times had him admitted to both city hospitals.

DIAGNOSED TUBERCULOSIS
The malady was diagnosed by the physicians as tuberculosis and it was suggested that the parents keep the boy out of doors, day and night and feed him entirely on a milk and egg diet. In compliance, the parents had an army cot placed on the back porch, had it properly screened and there, the sufferer reduced to a mere skeleton, lay day and night, his life ebbing.

Then, in contrast, the mother called to her son who was engaged in strenuous play on the street, and in came a lad, vibrant with health and cheeks glowing like the rose. All this in spite of the ultimatum by a physician, "that he might as well take so much lead, according to the mother's statement."

Mrs. McCartney sent her letter to the company in the hope that other mothers could learn of this remedy, what it did for her son, and perhaps receive from it the same invaluable boon. She called the attention of the reporter to a bottle of the emulsion which ever has the place of honor on the buffet, and to which she says, recourse has had every time any member of the family complains of not feeling well. Paul is attending school regularly, being enrolled at the Curtis building. Mr. McCartney is a well known machinist in the Juniata shops.

TO RELIEVE CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are hard of hearing or have head noises, go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmit (double strength), and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Adv.

WILLIAMS-HARTUNG NUPTIALS

At high noon Saturday there occurred one of the prettiest home weddings of the season, when Miss Louise Hartung, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. C. Hartung became the bride of Mr. Horace B. Williams of Montgomery. For the occasion, loving friends had decorated the home in white carnations, crysanthemums, palms and ferns, a color motif of white and green being beautifully developed.

The house was darkened and lights from many candles brilliantly illuminated the interior. An altar was arranged at one end of the living room, by banking ferns and lovely potted plants. A white wedding bell was suspended from the arch, under which the couple stood to receive the oidy words that made them one. The Rev. Herman L. Turner, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Sheffield and brother-in-law of the bride, said the impressive ring ceremony, assisted by Rev. L. F. Goodwin, D. D., pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church, in the presence of the relatives and about one hundred friends of the contracting parties.

Before the entrance of the bridal party, Mrs. L. J. Whitley sang "I Love You Truly," Miss Bernice McClure rendering a violin solo, Safat d'Armour.

As the last notes died away the first chords of Mendelssohn's wedding march were sounded and the officiating ministers entered, followed by the groom and his best man, Mr. M. Edwin Wiggins, then the ring bearer, Master H. L. Turner, Jr., of Sheffield, wearing a white ivory satin suit, came bearing the wedding ring in a large pink rose. The flower girl, dainty little Miss Margaret Elizabeth Turner preceded the bride. She wore a frock of shell pink mulline over silk, with satin ribbon trimmings and hair bow, and carried a lovely basket of flowers, tied with a fluffy pink tulle bow. The bride entered with her maid of honor, Miss Mable Hartung who was lovely in a gown of midnight blue tricot with black satin trimmings. She carried an arm bouquet of American beauty roses. The bride was never lovelier than in her handsome tailored suit of pekin blue velvet, trimmed in beaver, her chic hat, gloves and shoes harmonizing. Her arm shower was of brides roses and valley lilies.

Mrs. Williams is one of the twin cities most talented and popular young women and possesses a sweet lovable nature.

Mr. Williams is a sterling young business man. He formerly resided here, where he has a host of friends. Following the marriage the happy pair after being entertained at an elegant luncheon at the home, left for a southern bridal tour, after which they will go to their home in Montgomery where the groom is a valued employee of Armour & Co. The presents were numerous and handsome.

Miss Mary Penick returned yesterday from a two weeks' visit in Athens, Tenn., where she was the guest of her cousin, Miss Allie Force.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Woman's Missionary society of the Central Methodist church held its regular weekly meeting Monday afternoon with Mrs. Virginia Graham. A large number of members and visitors enjoyed the study period which immediately followed the scripture lesson, both being conducted by Miss Groenendyke in her inimitable style. Subject for the afternoon was Bible societies and colporters. Short business session succeeded the lesson study, the president Mrs. J. L. Proctor, in the chair. The following chairmen of committees being appointed: Mrs. J. H. Donnell, program; Mrs. Sam Blackwell, church; Mrs. J. W. Cunningham, parsonage; Mrs. Binford Turner, finance; Mrs. J. W. Cobb, sick and stranger; Mrs. W. B. Robertson, jail; Mrs. L. P. Troup, legislation; Mrs. J. L. Proctor and Mrs. L. C. Mayes, emigrant and negro. The society adjourned after the Lord's prayer repeated in unison.

Why Don't They Go Back?

Why is it that thousands who quit coffee years ago for Postum have continued using Postum ever since?

These people could have gone back to coffee if they had wanted to. But they found Postum to be a satisfying table-drink with a delightful coffee-like flavor, and entirely healthful

Paint Brush's Many Uses.

Nothing is better to take dust down the stairs than a good paint brush. It removes the dust from the corner niche of each step, brushes between the stair railings of moldings in a way no cloth can possibly do. Indeed a medium size paint brush of about four inches width has many uses in the house.
